

Every line is 14 tiles. The colours are the rule: blocks in one colour must all be the same suit, and a different colour must be a different suit. That is what “2 suits” beside a line means — not which suits, only how many, and which blocks share one. Any suit may play any colour.

F — any flower or season. All eight are interchangeable. D — the dragon belonging to that block’s suit (green with bams, red with craks, the soap with dots). 0 — the soap, standing in as the digit zero.

N E W S — winds. They belong to no suit, so they take no colour. C — this hand must stay concealed: you may not claim a discard for it.

A joker can stand in only inside a block of three or more identical tiles. It can never fill a pair, a single, or a mixed block like 2468 or NEWS — which is why the hands built from pairs are the hardest ones here, and worth the most.
